

Work From Home (WFH) Policy

Company: WorkMate Technologies

Policy Name: Work From Home Policy

Effective Date: January 1, 2026

Version: 1.0

1. Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to define the guidelines and expectations for employees working from home. The policy aims to maintain productivity, security, communication, and a healthy work-life balance while allowing employees to work remotely.

2. Eligibility

Employees who have completed their probation period may be eligible for work from home, subject to their team's requirements and manager approval.

Eligibility may depend on:

- Job responsibilities
- Team requirements
- Employee performance
- Business requirements
- Manager approval

Some roles that require regular physical presence may not be eligible for work from home.

3. Work From Home Days

Eligible employees may work from home for up to 2 days per week.

Employees must obtain approval from their reporting manager before working from home.

Employees should submit their WFH request at least one working day in advance, except in emergencies.

4. Working Hours

Employees are expected to follow their normal working hours while working remotely.

Standard working hours are:

9:30 AM to 6:30 PM

Employees are expected to be available during core working hours from:

10:00 AM to 5:00 PM

Any changes to working hours must be discussed with and approved by the reporting manager.

5. Attendance

Employees working from home must mark their attendance through the company's attendance system.

Employees should remain available through approved communication tools such as:

- Microsoft Teams
- Slack
- Email
- Company phone

Employees should inform their manager if they will be unavailable for an extended period during working hours.

6. Productivity and Performance

Employees working remotely are expected to maintain the same level of productivity and quality of work as employees working from the office.

Employees should:

- Attend scheduled meetings.
- Complete assigned tasks on time.
- Respond to important messages within a reasonable timeframe.
- Keep their task status updated.
- Participate in team discussions.

Work-from-home arrangements must not negatively affect project deadlines or team collaboration.

7. Meetings

Employees must attend all mandatory meetings while working remotely.

Employees should join meetings on time and use a reliable internet connection.

For meetings where video participation is required, employees should keep their camera enabled unless there is a valid reason not to.

8. Information Security

Employees are responsible for protecting company information while working remotely.

Employees must:

- Use company-approved devices whenever possible.
- Keep passwords confidential.
- Never share company credentials with others.
- Avoid using public computers for company work.
- Use secure Wi-Fi networks.
- Lock their computer when away from their workstation.
- Report suspected security incidents immediately.

Confidential company information must not be downloaded or shared through unauthorized applications.

9. Equipment

The company may provide employees with equipment required for remote work, such as:

- Laptop
- Monitor
- Keyboard and mouse
- Headset
- Other approved accessories

Employees are responsible for taking reasonable care of company-provided equipment.

Any damaged, lost, or malfunctioning equipment should be reported to the IT team immediately.

10. Internet Connection

Employees working from home are responsible for maintaining a reliable internet connection.

If an internet outage affects work, employees should inform their manager and IT support as soon as possible.

11. Data Privacy

Employees must follow the company's data protection and privacy policies while working remotely.

Company data should not be:

- Shared with unauthorized individuals.
- Stored on personal cloud storage.
- Transferred using unauthorized applications.
- Printed unnecessarily.
- Accessed from unsecured devices.

12. Leave During WFH

Working from home does not replace the company's leave policy.

If an employee is unable to work due to illness or personal reasons, they must apply for leave according to the standard leave procedure.

Employees should not mark themselves as working from home when they are actually unavailable for work.

13. Emergency Situations

In case of emergencies such as severe weather, transportation disruptions, or other unexpected events, employees may request temporary work-from-home arrangements.

The manager will evaluate such requests based on business requirements.

14. Policy Violations

Failure to follow this policy may result in withdrawal of work-from-home privileges and may lead to further action according to company policies.

15. Policy Review

The company may review and update this policy periodically based on business requirements, employee feedback, security requirements, and changes in applicable regulations.